| Equipment | Contamination of products and equipment by co workers or customers | 3 | 1 | Ensure health and safety standards and practises are explained to all staff. One sponge per customer, change water frequently, clean and disinfect brushes after each event. Working set up should keep products out of the reach of the public to reduce exposure to risk. Do not allow other people to handle products and equipment. If the product has been compromised, put away to be cleaned later. If not useable then throw away. If equipment has been compromised, put away for cleaning later per usual methods. Arrange work setup to restrict access as much as possible - arrange chairs to encourage people to queue opposite the working area. | Low |
| Clients / Members of the Public | Contagious or obvious conditions, illness or wounds | 3 | 1 | If a person appears to be ill, has an obvious skin condition/open sores/wounds - DO NOT PAINT. Do not paint anyone who is or appears to be contagious. Always use one sponge per person. Always change water frequently and rinse brushes well. | Low |
| Manual Handling | Lifting children into face painting chair - back injury to artist | 3 | 1 | Do not lift anyone - have the parent/guardian do it if child is unable to get into the chair unaided. Work seated with the child facing you or have the child stand whilst you sit. | Low |
| Equipment | Chair tipping (customers) causing injury | 2 | 2 | Hold chair steady whilst persons are getting on or off. Ensure chair is on a level surface. A cushion can be used to help keep child upright and prevent them sliding out of the back. Either paint with the child standing or have the parent support them whilst they are being painted or have them stand. | Low |
| Equipment | Cosmetic glitter in the eye | 2 | 2 | Ask customer to close their eyes whilst glitter is applied and shield eyes whilst applying. Always use cosmetic glitters. | Med |
| Face Painting | Allergic reactions to foods eg nuts. Risk of cross contamination in paints, brushes and water used when painting an individual with a food allergy if the person painted before them has recently eaten that specific food. | 10 | 3 | In this instance we would not be able to paint the person with the allergy as the risk is too severe. Parents of children with a severe allergy would make artist aware before their child is seated anyway as per our displayed disclaimer. None of our make up contain any of the 14 listed allergens. | Med |
